

Borden is coming to Texas. A condensing unit for a great Milk Plant to cost close to one million dollars is announced for Waco. This is the greatest step forward in recent years to get away from unprofitable cotton farming. Dairying is one of the diversification plans that will bring about a balanced prosperity.

On the face of the announcement, it appeared that Cameron might have competition with her milk plant soon to be erected here. Not only will the Waco vicinity be asked to contribute to the support of the Borden industry but surrounding territory. Milk routes as far as points in Falls county are announced. However, in the opinion of those in charge the Cameron plant will not have to meet competition in its own territory. If such be the case, concentration on one product would give the Cameron plant an equal break for competitive business for one product when attempted exclusively can be made here as well as in any other place in the world.

Now that the matter of the plant has been settled, the prime factor must be considered. That is good cows. Educational work must be done. Some agency must become interested in the situation and assist the farmers to provide better cows. At the present time not a sufficient number of good cows are available here to supply the demand for the local plant. The Chamber of Commerce can find no greater immediate duty than to get behind the proposition.

The season of charity is at hand. The Red Cross calls, Christmas Seals are offered and touching us all is the silent appeal of the unfortunate in our own city. A tug at the heart strings every time we look into the faces of little children less fortunate. Their hearts are as much aflame as the hearts of those who live in warm houses and have what they want. No man can live and not feel the urge.

A great and humane purpose is served in the sale of Christmas Seals. Tuberculosis is being successfully combated through funds obtained from the sale of Xmas Seals and other works of benevolence are prospering under the agencies responsible for their distribution. In Cameron the History Club is in charge of the sale of the Christmas Seals. Enrollment of the Red Cross is under way and soon the various societies and fraternities will start the Christmas Seal fund.

Learning to like people is a wonderful, profitable, satisfying game. Learn to like people as just folks, is one of the secrets of happiness and of success as well. Learn to like people. As a rule they deserve it, for while there are base exceptions and while nobody is perfect, in the average man and woman, there is more gold than brass. To have folks like you, you must like them. You can't fool a mirror of your honest feelings. Those whose hearts are full of hate, envy, contempt for their fellows are doomed to be the most miserable of mortals.

Trade Briefs

This week The Herald presents in its advertising columns a large display for C. N. Green & Bros. on the Majestic Radio set now being sold in large numbers here. Mr. Green on Wednesday was called upon to order more sets by telephone to meet the demands being made by Cameron homes for these wonderful sets. The advertisement in this issue tells a remarkable story. Two weeks ago we carried a news story to the effect that the Graf Zeppelin, German transatlantic craft had carried aboard the ship a Majestic Radio. In the advertisement this week is found a letter telling of the use of the Console model of Majestic on board the great air liner which flew to this country and back again. These remarkable figures are interesting. The company is now manufacturing 3500 console sets per day or 80,000 per month. Plans are under way, according to Mr. Green for increasing this production to 5000 per day in 1929. In maintaining this leadership, says Mr. Green the company has employed and maintain competent engineers to keep step with the advances of the business thus giving the Majestic all the latest improvements to be had in radio. The demand is now exceeding the supply. Mr. Green said: "Nothing like it has been produced in radio history. The number of sets we are placing in Cameron homes and the uniformly good report we get on the extraordinary service of these sets leads me to be—

CHURCHES HERE UNITE FOR PROGRAM AT PRESBYTERIAN AUDITORIUM

A union Thanksgiving service at the Presbyterian church is announced by Rev. Wallace Jones representing the Pastor's Association.

Rev. P. T. Ramsey of the Methodist church will preach the sermon this year and all members of all congregations are urged to attend the service. The mid week prayer services at the various churches will not be held next week on account of the union service.

It has been a custom here for many years to hold union Thanksgiving services, the programs being alternated between the churches and the various pastors taking turn in preaching the annual sermons.

A large crowd is expected. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the Presbyterian choir.

Ben Arnold H. D. Club Holds Meeting, Hears Mrs. Kathryn Robbins

The Ben Arnold Home Demonstration Club met in regular meeting at the school house November 21 with six members present. The president, Mrs. W. Vogelsang being absent, the Home agent acted in her place with Mrs. O. C. Nolte as secretary. The minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Nolte appointed Mrs. Max Kotte, Mrs. W. Vogelsang and Mrs. C. F. Nolte as a committee to work out some suggestions on "What the Club Would Like to do for the Community for the Coming Year."

Mrs. J. C. Komar read a good paper on "The Outstanding Needs of this Community." Mrs. O. C. Nolte discussed "What can our Club do to Help These Needs." Others gave suggestions and discussed the need of a First Aid Chest and sanitary water supply for the school. And then we all enjoyed a splendid talk by our visitor, Mrs. Kathryn Robbins of Cameron. We hope she will be with us again soon. Afterward we visited the school rooms and saw many interesting things the children had been working on.

The club adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. O. C. Nolte the second week in December. The program will be "Christmas Gift Suggestions." Roll call will be answered with a gift suggestion.

Neblett Shop Opens For Holiday Season

The door of The Neblett Shop has recently opened for the holiday season. As one wonders through this little shop they find the most attractive and unusual gifts that the old and new world has to offer. The foreign pottery display is very interesting as it comprises waffle sets, vases, jugs, artichoke sets, teapots and many other useful novelties. Lamps, being one of their specialties, one sees a variety displaying the colored water bottle type, borghese pottery, colonial styles and some in the modern manner. The designs of the bases combine fittingly with the shades. In addition to these lines mentioned there are many other items of interest such as glassware, portfolios, brasses, smoking accessories, utility boxes, baskets, etc. This new shop has chosen a corner in Keith's Electric Shop as their home and they would be pleased to have you call and inspect their wares.

W. H. Triggs Constructs Warehouse Building

Contract was awarded this week for the construction of a tile building on the west portion of the lot occupied by the Texas Power and Light Company.

The building is being constructed by J. F. Brown for W. H. Triggs and will be used, it is understood, by the Texas Power and Light Company as a warehouse and storage room.

Concrete foundations have been completed and it is planned to complete the structure by January 1st.

CAMERON STATE BANK ADDS NEW DIRECTORS

LARGE BLOCK OF STOCK SOLD TO R. L. BATTE, W. H. TRIGGS AND WILL DAVIS

Announcement was made Thursday morning by George T. Graves, cashier of the Cameron State Bank that a large block of stock, of the shares of the bank, have been purchased by R. L. Batte, W. H. Triggs and Will Davis of Sharpe, thus bringing to the directorate of this bank three of the financially strong men of Milam county.

Reports of a consolidation were erroneous, according to Mr. Graves.

It has been talked for some days of certain deals relative to the Cameron State Bank, but it was not generally known until today that Messrs. R. L. Batte, W. H. Triggs of Cameron and Will Davis of Sharpe had purchased a large block of the stock in that bank and would henceforth be associated in the active management of this institution.

These are three of the largest and most successful business men of the county, and their addition to this already splendid bank, will no doubt cause it to continue its steady growth. It is understood that no change will be made in the active officers of the bank but they will continue as heretofore.

Interest taken by Cameron leaders in the 1928 Christmas Seal Sale of the Texas Public Health Association insures the success of the appeal here.

The history club is fostering the sale and is being assisted by a large group of outstanding men and women of other organizations.

Christmas Seals, as well as posters, slides and other supplies have been received. With the arrival of the supplies the local committee believes work can go ahead unchecked in the campaign to raise funds to wipe the Great White Plague from our country.

Work is progressing favorably on the compiling of a list of persons who will receive their seals through the mail.

The local committee believe that by this method they will be able to better inform the public, regarding this great educational and remedial movement of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Senators From Texas

SAM HOUSTON

(Editor's Note—We begin in this issue publication of a series of interesting life sketches of members of the United States Senate from Texas since admittance to the United States. This week we begin with the first, Gen. Sam Houston. Next article will give the history of Thomas J. Rusk and so on through the list including Hon. Tom Connally who has just been elected. It is safe to say that not many know the names of the 18 Senators who have represented Texas.

Served as a Representative from Tennessee and as the first Senator from Texas. Sam Houston was born on March 2, 1793 near a spot known as "Timber Ridge Church," about 7 miles east of the old town of Lexington, in Rockridge County, Virginia. Upon the death of his father in 1806 and when 13 years old, Houston moved with his widowed mother from Virginia to Tennessee. Soon thereafter he ran away and was adopted by the Cherokee Tribe of Indians. In 1813 he enlisted in the United States Army and served under General Andrew Jackson against the Creek Indians; was wounded in battle at Horseshoe Bend. Upon attracting the notice of General Jackson, Houston was promoted to the rank of Third Lieutenant. When, in 1814, the Army was reduced, he was retained in the service. Two years later he was detailed as an agent to the Cherokee Indians and headed a delegation to the national capital at Washington. Houston resigned from the Army in the year 1818, shortly after receiving his commission as First Lieutenant; began the study of law in Nashville, and within six months was admitted to the Bar and opened a law office at Lebanon, Tennessee. In 1819 he was elected District Attorney and returned to Nashville. Two years later he was appointed Adjutant General of Tennessee with the rank of Colonel and within another twelve months was elected Major General of State troops.

Houston was first elected to the United States Congress as a Representative from Tennessee in 1823 and was reelected in 1825. A controversy between Sam Houston and General William White at Nashville in 1826 on account of Houston's severe criticism of Mr. Erwin, an Adams-Clay appointee as postmaster at Nashville, resulted in a duel in which General White fell with a wound in his thigh from the first shot Houston fired.

Houston was elected Governor of Tennessee in 1827 and was a candidate for a second term. While a candidate for reelection he married Miss Eliza Allen. Because of family troubles, Houston unexpectedly resigned the governorship before the expiration of his term and joined the Cherokee Indians in Arkansas. In 1833 he went to Texas on a mission from President Jackson to the Comanche Indians at San Antonio. The citizens of Nacogdoches invited Houston to remain in Texas. He was elected to the constitutional convention and made chairman of the committee to draft the Texas constitution. The Mexican Revolution in 1833 left Texas without a government. Houston joined a war party at Nacogdoches and was made Commander in Chief in East Texas. He later joined Austin at San Antonio; was elected Commander in Chief and moved his headquarters to Washington on the Brazos river. In 1836 he went to Goliad; sent Bowie to Bexar; went to Refugio. When superceded by a council Houston reported to the Governor. Upon the meeting of a convention he was reappointed Commander in Chief; went to Gonzales, retreated to the Colorado river; crossed Buffalo Bayou at Harrisburg. On April 21, 1836 Houston led the Texans against Santa Anna and his Mexican forces and completely routed them in the memorable Battle of San Jacinto; was wounded in that battle and went to New Orleans for treatment. He soon returned and was elected president of the Texas republic.

In 1837 Houston announced to Congress an acknowledgment of Texas independence, but the United States Government declined annexation. Houston retired in 1838 and was succeeded by Lamar as President of the new republic. He was elected as a member of the Texas House of Representatives in 1839, and the following year he married Miss Margaret Moffett Lea of Alabama; was re-elected president, for the second term, in 1841, and renewed his proposal to Congress for the annexation of Texas. The Mexicans plundered San Antonio and in 1843 annexation was again declined. Houston withdrew the Texas minister, but later returned him to the United States, his term as President ended in 1844, with Texas sold—

HUBERT HEFLEY BUILDS ADDITION TO PLANT

FORD DEALER TO ENLARGE HIS SPACE FOR DISPLAY AND REPAIR SHOPS

Hubert Hefley has let the contract for an addition to his building facing east connecting with the present structure and work has begun. J. F. Brown has the contract for this building and J. L. Barmore is doing the cement work. The material is being furnished by the Milam County Lumber Company.

The building will be 52 by 116 and will face the Presbyterian church property on the street running parallel with the Auditorium Hotel east.

The front of this new building will be constructed of glass, tile and stone making one of the most attractive store fronts in this section of Texas.

The addition of this unit will give the Ford plant here an area of floor space adequate for immediate needs for the business and Mr. Hefley is to be congratulated on his progressive move.

TALKING PICTURES TO TAKE PLACE OF MOVIE

SAM HEFLEY BACK FROM CONVENTION SEES COMING OF BETTER PROGRAMS HERE

"The mission of entertainment is one in which public spirited citizens should interest themselves," says Sam Hefley of the Wonderland and New Hefley Theaters.

Mr. Hefley was one of a thousand progressive showmen who attended the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Convention held at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, November 13-14.

"The mission of entertainment is one of vast importance to a city and its surrounding community and this convention enabled me to learn of things which will enable me to be of greater benefit to Cameron in the matter of entertainment.

"Sound and talking pictures are the biggest thing in the world of motion pictures today, and while they are by no means perfect and as yet are not available to the small theatre, in a little while they promise to place motion picture entertainment in the very front rank of the entertainment of the world.

"At the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Convention an organization designed to aid exhibitors in the all important mission of entertainment, I learned something of pictures, music and presentation which I bring back to Cameron and its people which will be more entertaining, inspiring and beautiful.

"The mission of entertainment is important," he said, "and one in whose hands this business is placed should leave nothing undone which has a tendency to improve it."

Thief Robs Homes In Buckholts Thursday

A thief who liked tobacco as well as money robbed two homes in Buckholts last Thursday night. Sheriff L. L. Blaylock was called to investigate. Sam Mewhinney, postmaster, found his trousers in the front yard with $25 missing while at the home of Murray McCrummen a plug of tobacco was missing.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

I am the public school.
I am of many-storied stone, soaring above busy city thoroughfares, or am a mere cluster of weather beaten boards in a wilderness that is trackless save for the path leading to my door.
I am the guardian of the hopes of every generation and I am true to my trust.
In me all things are equal; in me are no distinctions among those who come to me except the paramount distinction between those who are proud to serve and those who seek only to be served.
It is my duty not alone to teach but equally to learn; to keep perpetually a light upon my altars, kindling them forever afresh from the inextinguishable flame that burns in every young heart, the sacred fires of love, of knowledge and love of freedom and love of country for as I succeed, America succeeds.
I am the public school.

THE TURKEY GOBLER

The great American bird is not the hen nor the eagle, but the turkey gobbler. The gobbler is lord of the barnyard and field marshal among the fowls.

See him strut in the fullness of his pride, tail feathers spreading, head up, wings trailing, but not ingloriously. His crimson comb and purplish wattles give him the appearance of a red-faced and important gentleman who is querulously concerned in everything going on about him. Such pomposity, dignity and swagger is rare. His irritable "gobble, gobble, gobble" strikes terror into the hearts of little children, but is music in the ears of more sophisticated who envision him trussed up in a roaster and stewing in his own juice.

The turkey has been closely associated with American history from the beginning. It will be remembered that at the famous Thanksgiving feast of the Pilgrim Fathers in November 1621, in which the friendly Indians participated, wild turkey was the chief delicacy. Once this elusive bird was plentiful but now the wild species is all but extinct. In only a few sections of the country the turkey may be found. It begins to look as though the domestic turkey is destined to go the way of its progenitor. Young turkeys are hard to raise and the Thanksgiving and Christmas demand exceeds the supply. No one wants to see the day when the turkey has disappeared from the land and the proud gobbler struts and fumes no more.

There is no substitute for the turkey gobbler in sight. As compared with him the rooster is plebeian and the gander "a lesser breed without the law." The gobbler is a symbol of prosperity and a token of hospitality well.

APPROACHING

Advertisements are beginning to appear with decorations of holly and mistletoe and smiling faces of Santa Claus. To the observant these ad frescoes their own story, give their own warning, hint at the important business from which none is barred and in which sooner or later everybody will be engaged.

In other words, Christmas shopping. The holiday is little more than a month ahead, fewer shopping days than thirty by a good deal. In no time these days will pass. The natural procrastinator will wait until Christmas Eve when store aisles will be jammed by other procrastinators, stocks picked out, clerks weary, customers in a flutter, clocks ticking time's rapid march all because the reminders of today have been neglected.

Every year more sensible persons do their Christmas shopping early. They reap all the advantages in variety of selection and leisure of choice when Christmas Eve comes they can proceed about their last minute holiday tasks orderly, while the others fume and sputter.

Americans are a great procrastinator. They never do today what can be done tomorrow. The postmaster has urged early posting of Christmas mail, but the last day will probably be bigger than ever. The train leaves at 5:15 but the cars do not fill until 5:14. We get there even if we are a last-minute nation, but it is at a tremendous cost of physical energy and mental upsets. The Christmas shopping season is merely one phase of a national temperament.

COMMON PURPOSE

Anthropologists tell us that man in his early state lived apart with his own little family and archaeologists say the first communities were formed by confederated families brought together for a common purpose—protection against man's natural enemies.

Today, man is distinctly a gregarious animal attracted more and more to community life. And men still build cities for a common purpose, or common purposes.

In the city one finds protection against fire, disease and the enemies of society. One goes to the city for good schools and monumental churches, paved streets, employment, art, entertainment, the society of other men and comforts of life denied the rural citizen. There is found the front rank of civilization.

The people of Cameron have a common purpose. It is the advancement of the community as a whole. That common purpose is hardly distinguishable from the purpose of each individual. That which benefits the individual usually benefits the entire community and that which benefits the community reacts to the benefit of each of its citizens.

Prosperity and progress come to those communities whose citizens have their eyes upon the largest number of common purposes. Success crowns the efforts of the man of purpose and the city with a common purpose works as one man.

"Common purpose" of new industries, increases business, minimizes unemployment, makes cities better places in which to live and performs miracles in community betterment.

Hatred's battle cry in all ages: "Damn you; be as I am."

Even a very light pat on the back can make the chest stick out.

Inalienable rights depend upon many things, but chiefly sleeping with one eye open.

Two is company, three is an organization that will ask for a congressional appropriation.

A born buck-passer is one who calls the result of his own folly "an act of Providence."

The "freedom" most people yearn for is merely the privilege of bossing people who now boss them.

WHICH IS BEST FOR HUMANITY

Consolidations, mass production, the chain selling trade associations. What a contrast to the ideas of former generations. Anti-trust legislation, individualistic products, localized retail distribution, self-made business heroes.

These factors of our previous business period of course had their evils and yet in the light of past experience they had their virtues.

Today's ideas, it is true, provide greater achievements but they are all along the materialistic lines, while the old ideas always seem to emphasize the personal elements and the human factor.

Which is best for humanity? Can't some genius take the best out of each idea and weld them together?

We surely must eliminate the danger of standardized minds and standardized characters that the present conditions seem to create and keep alive and the old colorful personal freedom and thoughts which had made the words American and Liberty synonymous.

A MAN'S PRAYER

Grant me a man's amount of common sense and the ability to use it. Teach me the value of the Golden Rule. Keep my eyes open for a chance to give the other fellow a lift and my ears dead to the tempting ring of evil gains. Make me to realize mine own faults; blind me to the sins and human errors of my fellow men. Dim the bright lights, keep my menu card of life free from bubbling wine and women vamps. Guide me to three square meals a day honestly earned, and help me to live so that I may lie down at night with the door unlocked and a conscience that will let me sleep.

Bless me with a sense of humor to see the other fellow's joke and make me a good listener. Give me an understanding heart, free from prejudice, sensitive and sympathetic to the troubles of others. Help me to keep my feet anchored on the narrow path with my eyes ahead, away from the other fellow's job—and his wife. Give me a healthy body and the grey matter to appreciate it. Help me to live so that in the end when the music plays soft, the flowers many, and the horses tread lightly out in front, I may look back over the past with no regrets of having gaffed the innocent, and, lastly, give me the marble carver's short job. Let the inscription read, "A Man."

DO STARS "EAT" METEORS?

Stars grow, and, like all growing things they need food for fuel. They get their food by consuming meteors with which they collide while hurtling through space.

Such are the fascinating theories advanced in Popular Science Monthly by Dr. Harlow Shapley, of the Harvard university observatory. Even our own little earth he says, "swallows" about 30,000 shooting stars a day. The sun and other great stars consume enormous numbers.

That is how the stars replenish the energy they expend in radiation and keep from dying. In one second, says Dr. Shapley, our sun expends 4,000,000 tons of its substance in sending us light and heat, but in that same second 1,000,000,000 meteors drop into Old Sol's hungry jaws.

AIMEE AND H. L. MENCKEN

Human eccentricity usually has its explanation. A study of the antecedents, environments and experiences of the flighty optimist and the sour pessimist, if it should seem worth while, could be pretty well depended upon to reveal why each is so and so. We have wondered sometimes why H. L. Mencken is H. L. Mencken. We still are uncertain. But there is a possible explanation in the statement of Aimee Semple McPherson that she believes Mencken once attended a meeting of her cult, that she baptized the cynical writer in her faith, but that she fears it did not take very well. We are unfamiliar with Aimee's method of baptism, but whatever it may be, it may account for Mencken, either because it did take or did not take or took only somewhat. Something embittered Mencken toward the "Bible belt." Something made him see things hidden to most of us or see things differently from his fellows.

It may be the influence of Aimee, for the eccentric evangelist seems to have two creeds, one of religion, the other of publicity. At least her publicity creed has worked amazingly. That creed seems to be, "Be different." This also seems to be Mencken's creed wherever it came from.

AM I GUILTY?

Man and man we seem content to float with the current, to run with the herd, to take the line of least resistance and amble carelessly on our way without seriously troubling ourselves about whether we may be going.

It is a comfortable manner of life. Life may have its problems but we do not pause to solve them; it has difficulties, but we evade them if we can. Untroubled by imagining and careless of the signs of the times, we labor, eat, sleep, visit the movies, ride in the old bus, read the sporting section, content to let the old world revolve in space and the human race work out its own salvation, or destruction without presumptuous "butting in" on our part.

We realize the prevalence of vice and crime, but we do nothing about it. We believe that there is fraud, graft and other wrong doing among our public servants but we do nothing about it.

We read of the slaughter of innocents by reckless driving but we do nothing about it.

We refuse to concern ourselves with a lot of things that loom on the horizon of the present with every evident promise of darkening the sky for ourselves or our descendants. We ride comfortably with eyes closed to the portents that warn of danger, making no efforts to remedy conditions that may result to our discomfort. Is it the best plan?

The very young know exactly the location of the dividing line between hate and love, youth and age, wrong and right. The old know there is no such line and that no man may say where the one ceases and the other begins.

As a man thinks, so he lives and so is his character. A good character is a priceless asset and worth more than a good bank account. Character can make a bank account, but a bank account can not make character.

Wednesday Bridge

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Bridge Club having been postponed last week, Mrs. S. A. Cottle was hostess to the members at the Country Club on Tuesday of this week. For decorations in the spacious reception rooms she chose autumn leaves and chrysanthemums with a predominating yellow color.

Table covers were of changeable taffeta in pastel shades. Several games were enjoyed by the four tables of players, at the conclusion of which a salad plate with lemon ice was served on hand painted trays centered with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

PUPILS WANTED

THIS LITTLE DOLLAR
STAYED HOME

A curious and practical citizen of a country town some time ago, attached a slip of paper to a dollar bill bearing the following request: "Will everyone receiving this dollar make a notation of its use on the blank space below?" Then he spent the dollar with a grocer.

In just ten days the dollar found its way back to the sender, and it bore notations showing that it had been spent five times for theaters, five for cigarettes, three for salaries, three for ice cream, twice for men's furnishings, twice for hair cuts, once for auto repairing, once for bacon, once for a compact and once for face powder.

The dollar had been spent 25 times in the community in ten days. It started out new and crisp and came back soiled and wrinkled.

If the first party had spent the dollar out of town, its service in that community would have been ended. It would have gone to work somewhere else.

It is the dollar that stays at home that builds the home community—that pays the taxes, supports the schools and employs home labor.

PAUL BEFORE HIS JUDGES

LESSON TEXT—Acts 24:1-16:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul on Trial.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul on Trial.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul on the Jerusalem Stand.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Defends His Life Work.

1. Paul Before Felix (24:1).

1. The accusation against him (vv. 1-9).

This was made by Tertullus, perhaps a Roman lawyer employed by the Jews.

(1) A pestilent fellow (v. 5). This would indicate a fellow utterly base and corrupt—a plague.

(2) An inciter of rebellion, a lover of sedition (v. 5). This they hoped would bring him into conflict with the Roman power.

(3) That he was ringleader of a sect (v. 5). This was designed to throw contempt and suspicion upon the Christians.

(4) That he had profaned the temple (v. 6).

2. Paul's defense (vv. 10-21).

(1) His frankness and courtesy (v. 10). He gave recognition to the fact that Felix had been ruler long enough to be able to judge justly, as the habits and ways of the Jews were familiar to him.

(2) The charges made (vv. 11-20). a. The charge of sedition denied (vv. 11, 12). The falsity of this he showed by the fact that the time was too short. Besides, his conduct showed the contrary.

b. The charge of heresy (vv. 14-16). This he made by a confession and a denial. He admitted that he was of this "way," which they called heresy, but denied that Christians were sects. He showed that his actions were clearly in keeping with the Jewish religion, that he worshiped the same God (v. 14), fully believed in the same Scriptures (v. 14), and had the same hope of the resurrection of the dead.

c. The charge of sacrilege (vv. 17-21). This he refuted by saying that he had come all the way from Greece to worship at the feast (v. 17), and had brought alms for his nation.

3. Felix trembles before Paul (vv. 22-27).

Wicked as Felix was, Paul's manner won his favor, though he did not release him. His sentence was "indulgent imprisonment," which kept him free from his enemies while under Roman protection. When brought before Felix, Paul reasoned of righteousness, self-control and judgment to come. Felix trembled.

II. Paul Before Festus (25:1-12).

More than two years had elapsed since the trial before Felix, but Jewish hatred did not abate. As soon as Festus, the new governor, went to Jerusalem, he was besieged with accusations against Paul. His accusers desired that he be brought to Jerusalem for trial, intending to lie in wait and kill him on the way. Festus refused their request but agreed to give them an opportunity to go down to Caesarea to accuse him. They were unable to prove anything against him. Festus, willing to please the Jews, proposed to send him to Jerusalem for trial. Seeing that it was impossible to get justice before Festus, Paul made use of his right as a Roman citizen and appealed to Caesar.

III. Paul Before Agrippa (Acts 25:13-26:27).

1. The occasion (25:13-27).

This was the visit of Agrippa and Bernice to Festus. Upon their arrival they expressed a desire to hear Paul.

2. Paul's defense before Agrippa (26:1-27).

He introduced his defense (vv. 1-3) by expressing his delight in now telling his case to one who could follow his line of argument, for Agrippa was an expert in questions concerning the Jews.

He then indicated his manner of life (vv. 4-12) by showing that he had lived in the strictest accord with the most rigid sect of the Jews. He then indicated his supernatural conversion (vv. 13-15). After his conversion he was commissioned by Christ (vv. 16-18). As soon as he had received his commission he rendered obedience (vv. 19-23). Seeing how thoroughly in earnest Paul was, Festus interrupted him and attempted to account for his enthusiasm by attributing it to the ravings of an unbalanced mind. Despite this, he made his appeal to Agrippa (vv. 24-27). He courageously appealed to Agrippa's knowledge of the work of Jesus and of the prophets. Agrippa was so impressed by Paul's appeal that he declared he was almost persuaded to be a Christian.

Have all that has been said about the marvelous growth of this company as deserved expansion."

John Zalesky has an interesting announcement in this issue of The Herald. A half page advertisement filled with bargains. This is not a sale but an announcement of extraordinary bargains obtaining at this store for the remainder of November and until Christmas. Mr. Zalesky's store is a popular store for shoppers. He has a big stock of goods and is offering exceptionally low prices for the coming weeks. Read this big ad.

"Our sale was a success," said Max Collins Wednesday, in discussing the special announcement of close out prices on his line of men's goods throughout the store. The big advertisement announcing this sale was prepared by J. R. Hays, popular co-manager and advertising man for the store. Mr. Hays has had wide experience in preparing ad copy and this big sale ad was no exception to the usual good quality of his work. The big sale continues as will be noted from a quarter page announcement in this issue.

W. B. Skelton, agent for the Humble Oil and Refining Company at Cameron and surrounding territory, has placed in The Herald this week a large display advertisement telling of the new Flashlike Gasoline manufactured by the company. This is one of the most attractive advertisements ever printed in this newspaper. It was prepared by the Chambers Agency in New Orleans and sent here for the benefit of the Humble stations in this vicinity. This advertisement features the white goose, a copy of a poster to be seen on the great bill boards along the highways of Texas. The interesting feature of this advertisement to the motorist is the analysis of the Flashlike gasoline, giving the fuel value and the power it affords along with economy. Every car owner will read this advertisement with interest. The names of the stations handling Humble products are printed at the bottom of this big ad. Mr. Skelton is to be congratulated on his progressive aid to his customers and to the public.

Those Thanksgiving groceries must be provided. McLane and McLane have their annual announcement for Thanksgiving dinners in this issue. A large ad telling of the foods to be had at the big store on Main Street will be read with interest by the housewives of the city.

No Thanksgiving Day is a success without fruits and Felix Matula and Company have an announcement of special interest in this issue quoting some exceptional prices and listing fruits for sale for Thanksgiving. Read this ad.

Cameron banks are progressive advertisers. Each week the Herald brings to its readers a message from the financial institutions of the city. The First National Bank and the Citizens National Bank have each week a special message to their depositors and to the public. If the advice of the banks were followed financial independence would touch the lives of a much greater per cent of the population.

vent. Upon annexation of Texas in 1845, Houston was elected as Senator to the United States and took his seat on March 30, 1846. He became a member of the Christian church in 1854; in 1856 he was spoken of for President. The year following he was defeated for Governor of Texas. Houston delivered his last speech in the United States Senate on February 21, 1859, but was deposed on March 18, 1861 upon his refusal to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States. He entered a vigorous protest and retired with his family to Independence, Texas. Died July 25, 1863 in Huntsville, Texas.

HARDY LEWIS

After an illness of over two years Hardy Lewis, 30, son of Mrs. C. M. Mullins, died on November 13, 1928. While his death came as a distinct shock his declining health had for more than two years shattered hopes for recovery. He had been seriously ill for more than nine weeks.

His great character was portrayed in many ways. Throughout his illness he was kind, patient and unselfish. He was always thoughtful of those about him. He was a member of the Church of Christ and in his last days he said, "If it is God's will, I am ready to go."

Brother A. O. Cooley of Waco spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing relatives and a large audience of friends assembled in the Church of Christ auditorium at three o'clock Nov. 14. Texas and Texans'

By Will H. Mayes

Building in Texas

One who attempts to keep informed as to the building going on in Texas must be amazed at the progress in all parts of the State. The towns and cities are nearly all growing at a remarkable rate and building permits are far in excess of those of any previous period. There is no other way to account for it than to attribute it to the general prosperity of the people. The State itself is the greatest builder and it is spending the largest sums in constructing permanent and semi-permanent highways. These highways, in turn, result in the building up of the cities and towns and in the improvement of country homes. People are no longer satisfied to live in dilapidated dwellings if they can afford better. Having better homes, they naturally want better school buildings and churches, better places of business, better hotels and court-houses. So, one improvement calls for another, and there grows up a regular circle of constructive activities.

Railroad Building

Those who predicted a few years ago that railroad building in Texas would have to stop because of the improved highways have another guess coming. The vast Panhandle section, naturally adapted to the building of good highways, is not only building such roads, but is almost changing the map with the railroads newly built and planned. That 'Duff' railroad enterprise, connecting Waco with Beaumont and Port Arthur, is now assured after years of delay. It looks like the West Texas and Gulf railway from Corpus Christi, through San Antonio to San Angelo will soon be built, as the people along the proposed route are rapidly subscribing the required stock. Much needed railroads have been built in the Rio Grande Valley. The Orient railroad now a part of the great Santa Fe system will soon be extended to its Mexican terminus. All this means that the capitalists throughout the country feel sure of the future growth of Texas.

Public Utilities

Have you noticed how the public utilities companies, most of which are largely financed by eastern capitalists are reaching out for whatever local utilities they can acquire. Recently the West Texas Telephone Company operating in that rich section around Brownwood was acquired by a subsidiary of the Bell Telephone Company. The financially strong power and light companies are paying top prices for any local companies that are offered for sale and every day new extensions of these utilities are reported. In some parts of the state tempting offers are being made to get control of the milk products plants that have recently built over the State. Many of the best newspaper properties have lately passed into chain newspaper groups, most of which are financed by northern capital and others are being bought out. Texas looks good to those who have money to invest in public or semi-public utilities.

The "Valley" Hotels

A few years ago, Weslaco was a little village, dependent almost entirely on the then unprofitable fruit and vegetable industry that was then largely without profitable markets. Shipping facilities have changed all this. The best evidence of what Weslaco now is comes in a newspaper report of the opening of a $250,000 hotel. Capital is not invested in large sums in village hotels nor in property stricken communities.

A San Antonio builder has bought the Mercedes Hotel property and is formulating plans for a large structure to meet the requirements of a large hotel operating company which is negotiating for a lease. The Lower Rio Grande Valley is dotted with splendid striving cities all of which have built or are building hotels of a kind to keep pace with the development of that section.

Making Way For Progress

For forty years travelers in that part of Texas have been stopping at the Junction Hotel at Kenedy and eating meals at the railroad eating house there. Many of the country's notables have been among the number. The place is to be closed to make way for more modern demands. It is the old story repeatedly—the old must inevitably give way to progress. Old buildings must be torn away for the new if there is to be growth. Old people especially if they retain the old ways and methods, must retire in the competition with the young. There may be regrets, but there should be no complaining—it is merely the way in which the world goes forward for better or for worse.

Creamery Building

This leads to the thought that the country is changing about as rapidly as the cities. A few years ago in the vast areas of West Texas thousands of acres were included in one pasture for cattle, which were owned in vast and uncounted numbers. This is rapidly changing, and the dairy cow is taking the place of her predecessor of the ranges. San Angelo, the western city that once took its greatest pride in its immense cattle ranches, is building a $100,000 milk products plant—forced to it by changing conditions and taking a degree of pride in the change.

How They Grow

A capitalist at Big Springs has recently put a 394 lot subdivision on the market, a 200 lot subdivision at Brady and another 100 lot addition at Menard have changed ownership. All these places are having remarkable growth, and have gotten out of the village class. Many other Texas towns are doing as well, but this progress is noticed here because it is the substance of just one news item showing what is going on in a constructive way in Texas.

Flying to School

Lieutenant James W. Andrews, an instructor in flying at Kelly Field at San Antonio is working toward a Ph. D. degree at the University of Texas. He flies from San Antonio to Austin three times a week to attend classes and gives the rest of his time to teaching others to fly. Who can tell but that in a few years thousands of students will be flying to school? It has been only a few years since people thought that going to school two miles from their homes was something about which to talk. Now, large numbers of students drive fifty or more miles to school every day. The world is moving rapidly.

Sunflower Crop

A farmer living near Lamesa, Dawson county, last year raised a crop of sunflowers from which he realized from $35 to $40 an acre. This year the yield is from 500 to 700 pounds to the acre and it is selling for about 15 cents a pound. The crop is largely used in poultry feeds after being ground. In some countries the stalk is ground into a pulp and used for silage. The Dawson farmer has demonstrated that diversification, even in crops largely untried and unknown can be made to pay.

Orpheus Club Of Rosebud Guests Cameron Symphony

The Cameron Symphony Club entertained the Orpheus Club of Rosebud at the home of Miss Helen Flinn last Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It was a return hospitality for that given the Cameron Club at Rosebud last year.

The spacious reception rooms of the Flinn home were beautifully decorated with pink and red radiance roses and numerous shaded lamps cast a soft glow over all. The first part of the afternoon was devoted to a program by the Rosebud Club, which included musical numbers and readings. Afterwards the guests were directed to the dining room for a salad plate and tea or coffee.

The table in the dining room was covered with a handsome Irish lace cloth and the center piece was a large bowl filled with lovely pink roses. Tall green tapers in low silver holders furnished light. Pink and green mints were served in silver compotes. Miss Sallie Kate McLane and Mrs. Claude Bradbury presided at the table and Misses Armstrong, Puckett and Bess DuBois served the guests. Favors were paper musical instruments decorated with gold ink and bearing the inscription, "Cameron Symphony Club, November 14, 1928."

After the visitors had been welcomed by Mrs. Claude Bradbury the president of the Club, they rendered the following well-arranged and enjoyable program:

Address, Mrs. J. A. Tarver.
Dreams of Eve, The Orpheus Club.
Hiram's House-keeping; The House With Nobody in It, Mrs. T. H. Freeman.
Violin numbers, Miss Vera Warrock.
Voice, Mrs. O. Wells.

PAUL BEFORE HIS JUDGES

LESSON TEXT—Acts 24:1-26:32.
GOLDEN TEXT—I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul on Trial.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul on Trial.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul on the Witness Stand.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Defends His Life Work.

I. Paul Before Felix (24).

1. The accusation against him (vv. 1-9).

This was made by Tertullus, perhaps a Roman lawyer employed by the Jews.

(1) A pestilent fellow (v. 5). This would indicate a fellow utterly base and corrupt—a plague.

(2) An inciter of rebellion, a lover of sedition (v. 5). This they hoped would bring him into conflict with the Roman power.

(3) That he was ringleader of a sect (v. 5). This was designed to throw contempt and suspicion upon the Christians.

(4) That he had profaned the temple (v. 6).

2. Paul's defense (vv. 10-21).

(1) His frankness and courtesy (v. 10). He gave recognition to the fact that Felix had been ruler long enough to be able to judge justly, as the habits and ways of the Jews were familiar to him.

(2) The charges made (vv. 11-20).
a. The charge of sedition denied (vv. 11, 12). The falsity of this he showed by the fact that the time was too short. Besides, his conduct showed the contrary.

b. The charge of heresy (vv. 14-16). This he made by a confession and a denial. He admitted that he was of this "way," which they called heresy, but denied that Christians were sectarians. He showed that his actions were clearly in keeping with the Hebrew religion, that he worshipped the same God (v. 14), fully believed in the same Scriptures (v. 14), and had the same hope of the resurrection of the dead.

c. The charge of sacrilege (vv. 17-21). This he refuted by saying that he had come all the way from Greece to worship at the feast (v. 17), and had brought gifts for his nation.

3. Felix trembles before Paul (vv. 22-27).

Wicked as Felix was, Paul's manner won his favor, though he did not release him. His sentence was "indulgent imprisonment," which kept him free from his enemies while under Roman protection. When brought before Felix, Paul reasoned of righteousness, self-control and judgment to come. Felix trembled.

II. Paul Before Festus (25:1-12).

More than two years had elapsed since the trial before Felix, but Jewish hatred did not abate. As soon as Festus, the new governor, went to Jerusalem, he was besieged with accusations against Paul. His accusers desired that he be brought to Jerusalem for trial, intending to lie in wait and kill him on the way. Festus refused their request but agreed to give them an opportunity to go down to Caesarea to accuse him. They were unable to prove anything against him. Festus, willing to please the Jews, proposed to send him to Jerusalem for trial. Seeing that it was impossible to get justice before Festus, Paul made use of his right as a Roman citizen and appealed to Caesar.

III. Paul Before Agrippa (Acts 25:13-26:27).

1. The occasion (25:13-27).

This was the visit of Agrippa and Bernice to Festus. Upon their arrival they expressed a desire to hear Paul.

2. Paul's defense before Agrippa (26:1-27).

He introduced his defense (vv. 1-3) by expressing his delight in now telling his case to one who could follow his line of argument, for Agrippa was an expert in questions concerning the Jews.

He then indicated his manner of life (vv. 4-12) by showing that he had lived in the strictest accord with the most rigid sect of the Jews. He then indicated his supernatural conversion (vv. 13-15). After his conversion he was commissioned by Christ (v. 16-18). As soon as he had received his commission he rendered obedience (vv. 19-23). Seeing how thoroughly in earnest Paul was, Festus interrupted him and attempted to account for his enthusiasm by attributing it to the ravings of an unbalanced mind. Despite this, he made his appeal to Agrippa (vv. 25-27). He courageously appealed to Agrippa's knowledge of the work of Jesus and of the prophets. Agrippa was so impressed by Paul's appeal that he declared he was almost persuaded to be a Christian.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR WOODMEN CIRCLE HOME

LOCAL GROVE CO-OPERATING IN WORK TO MAKE STRUCTURE POSSIBLE

Wednesday, November 14, ground was broken for the first building of the Woodmen Circle Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children at Sherman, Texas.

An interesting sentiment connected with the choice of November 14, as the date to break ground is that it is the birthday of National Secretary Dora Alexander Talley of Omaha, Nebraska. Mrs. Talley was born in Texas and made her home in the state until she became national secretary. For many years it has been her ambition for the society to have such a home as is now being started.

Immediately after the ground-breaking ceremony active work will begin on the excavation for the Administration building. It is the aim of the Woodmen Circle eventually to have not just one home but rather a community of homes at Sherman.

National President Mary E. LaRocca of Omaha, Nebr., will turn the first dirt with a silver pick which is treasured by the Sherman Chamber of Commerce.

The ceremony will be a birthday in another way, for State Supervisor Etta Davidson of Houston, a member of the home committee, has announced that all applications received by the 14th will go to make up a huge Birthday Class in honor of Mrs. Talley. Texas recently began a year's campaign, the Rainbow of Progress, with the goal set at four million dollars worth of new business.

Mrs. Carrie V. Jamison, financial secretary of grove No. 465 is among the secretaries who are sponsoring the Rainbow of Progress for November.

There is to be a beautiful Avenue of Trees leading to the Home. The trees will signify the devotion of members of the society to their loved ones, for members have the privilege of contributing the sum necessary to buy a tree and each tree will bear a small metal band giving the name of the donor. Many trees will bear the loving sentiment beginning, "In memory of."

Texas members have contributed more than $10,000 to the home fund. They have also made many pledges of articles to help furnish the Home and these articles will be exhibited at the state convention to be held next spring.

Names of individuals contributing $10 to the home fund will be placed in the corner stone of the Administration building. These names will also be inscribed in a large memorial register which will be kept in the reception hall of the same building.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Methodist Missionary Society met in circles Monday as follows: Circle one had no meeting.

Circle two met with Mrs. R. L. Williams and elected the following officers: Chairman, Mrs. W. P. McCall; Vice-chairman, Mrs. Grady Little; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. H. N. Tate; Collector, Mrs. Roy Weems. There were 13 members present.

Circle three met with Mrs. Sam McDermott and elected the following officers: Chairman, Mrs. Roy Griffith; Vice-chairman, Mrs. Bob Terry; Secretary, Mrs. W. I. Clark. Treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Cheeves; Superintendent of Voice, Mrs. Pope Sapp; Supt. of Bible Study, Miss Mollie Moore.

Circle four had no meeting. Circle five had no meeting.

Circles two and three voted to cooperate with the other circles in collecting old papers and magazines to sell.

For the first time in history a console radio set has crossed the ocean in an airship. It was a MAJESTIC, of course. And MAJESTIC was chosen because of merit!

Read this interesting letter received from the Zeppelin's Chief Engineer:

(Translation)
Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 20, 1928

Gentlemen:
I am the Chief Engineer of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin and came to America in her very recently, and through relatives in Philadelphia I heard your Majestic Radio Apparatus.
I like the performance of the built-in loud speaker very well and since we do not have anything like that in Germany I beg to ask you if it would not be possible to take one of your sets back with me in the Zeppelin to Germany, and under what conditions.
I would show the set with great joy over there and it would help me remember the enthusiastic reception which all of us found in America.

Very sincerely,
Karl Beuerle, Chief Eng.,

The Elephants Are Coming

The Christy Bros. Shows which will be here next Monday, November 26 for two performances has 28 elephants in the menagerie and they are all actors of proven ability, going through a series of stunts and most amazing feats that show a high degree of mental development and will surprise even the old time show fan.

Miss Jumbo, the oldest and largest of all performing elephants, is the leader of the herd and can dance the variety drag with most unusual grace for so cumbersome a beast, and shimmies just a little bit when the circus band plays a jazzy syncopated air. And when any one of the other elephants get obstreperous Miss Jumbo with many a lusty wallop of her trunk soon puts a quietus on the disturbers.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, the trainer avers with solemn mien, elephants are just folks and that they can understand every word she utters and what gives a seeming air of credibility to this contention is the instant obedience to her every spoken command.

Both African and Asiatic elephants are in the five herds and they all take part in the two-mile-long street parade that will leave the show grounds promptly at noon.

Performances are scheduled for two for the afternoon and eight for the night show. Doors will be open an hour earlier so that all may pay a leisurely visit to the menagerie, with its strange and savage beasts from the shores washed by the farthest seas.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

The Grand Jury reported 11 felony indictments Friday afternoon and were asked to recess until the 27th of November when it will reconvene to finish its work. Among the indictments are:

Cruz Garcia and Jno. Flewellen are charged with murder.

Paschal Johnson, possession of intoxicating liquor.

Roy Thornton and Henry White, burglary.

R. C. Gibson, driving car while intoxicated.

Jno. Watson, two cases possession and manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

Hilda Watson, wife of Jno. Watson, two cases, possession and manufacturing of intoxicating liquor.

Roy Thornton and Henry White were tried Monday and pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentence by the jury.

The case against Cruz Garcia is set for December 10th and a special venire of 60 names was called.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Kilgore and Donald Jr. arrived Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Kilgore's parents, Judge and Mrs. John Watson.

Interest taken by Cameron leaders in the 1928 Christmas Seal Sale of the Texas Public Health Association insures the success of the appeal here.

The history club is fostering the sale and is being assisted by a large group of outstanding men and women of other organizations.

Christmas Seals, as well as posters, slides and other supplies have been received. With the arrival of the supplies the local committee believes work can go ahead unchecked in the campaign to raise funds to wipe the Great White Plague from our country.

Work is progressing favorably on the compiling of a list of persons who will receive their seals through the mail.

The local committee believe that by this method they will be able to better inform the public, regarding this great educational and remedial movement of the National Tuberculosis Association.

THE PRAYERS OF PAUL

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:36-38; Rom. 1:10-12; Eph. 1:16-23; 2:14-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoice always without ceasing; in everything give thanks.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Prays for His Friends.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul as a Man of Prayer.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Place of Prayer in Paul's Life.

His prayer life most really reveals the character of a man. Paul's prayers explained the power and efficiency of his wonderful ministry. The careful study of these prayers will give us strength, guidance and peace as we go about life's duties. The prayer meeting, believers getting together to pray, has characterized the Christian church throughout its history.

I. Paul's Prayer with the Ephesian Elders (Acts 20:36-38).
Having met with these elders and pointed out to them the perils which confronted them and set forth their responsibility, he knelt down and prayed with them before going to Jerusalem, where bonds and afflictions awaited him. They all went sore and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him, knowing that this was to be the last sight of him. When believers pray and weep together, they will definitely work together.

II. Paul Praying for the Romans (Romans 1:8-10).
He thanked God for their world-famed faith (v. 8). The true minister has no greater occasion for gratitude than the knowledge of genuine faith possessed by followers of Christ.

2. He prayed for their continual increase (v. 9).
Knowing the far-reaching influence of the church at Rome, he unceasingly prayed for them that their influence might be most widely felt.

3. His supreme burden in prayer was for a successful journey to Rome (v. 10).
He desired to visit Rome in order that he might impart some spiritual gift to the believers there and also to receive some spiritual help from them. The true minister receives a reflex blessing from those to whom he ministers.

III. Paul Praying for the Ephesians (Eph. 1:15-23).
He besought God that the believers at Ephesus might know (1) The hope of their calling (v. 18). Unfaithfulness on the part of believers is frequently due to their lack of a true understanding of their calling. The right understanding of the Christian's hope will make steadfast the lives of believers. (2) The riches of the glory of God's inheritance in the saints (v. 18). It is marvelous to know that the saint has an inheritance in God but it is more marvelous that God has an inheritance in the saints. (3) The greatness of Christ's power to us (vv. 19-23). This mighty power was demonstrated in the resurrection of Christ from the dead. The same power which gave the victory over the grave is available for believers.

2. For strength (Eph. 3:14-21).
This prayer was made to God who is the Father of His great family in heaven and in earth. He prayed that the believers might be strengthened with might in their inner man, with the object of being indwelt by Christ. If Christ is to be entertained, the temple needs the divine strengthening. Where the house is strong enough, Christ will come and abide. Likewise, that they might be rooted and grounded in love (v. 17). This establishment in the love of Christ is needed by every one as to prevent them from being turned aside by every wind of doctrine. Also, that they might comprehend the love of Christ (v. 18). If a love is wonderful in its dimensions, in its depth, breadth, width and height, it transcends human understanding—the object being that the believer might be filled unto the fullness of God (v. 19). This does not mean that the believer can hold God, but that he can be so related to God that the infinite resources are at his command.

Immortality
"Who does not feel that it would change everything if he believed with his whole soul in his immortality? It would supply him with a totally new standard of values. Many things which the world prizes and pursues he would utterly despise, and many things which the world neglects would be the objects of his most ardent pursuit.—James Malster.

The Bible
The Bible is the best thought ever put into print. No other book deals with such grand themes.—Herbert Johnson.

Makes Us Comforters
God does not comfort us to make us comfortable, but to make us comforters.—J. H. Bennett.

Most Sacred Art
The most sacred art and the most engaging is prayer.—A. W. Tozer.

GAUSE

Bro. W. F. Weeks held his first services of the conference year Sunday at the Methodist church. A large congregation greeted him and his wife and enjoyed two fine sermons by him.

Mr. Patterson, superintendent of the Milam school, presented his high school students in a play here Friday night, entitled, "Dot, the Miner's Child." Each character played his part well showing that they had been carefully trained. This was a good play and enjoyed by a large crowd of Gause people.

A. Varner left Friday morning for Houston where he will visit for several days.

Mrs. M. L. Russell and Mary Luce were in Hearne Friday afternoon.

T. C. Wilson was a business visitor in Hearne Friday.

The O. E. S. Chapter of Gause met Thursday afternoon in regular meeting. There were nine members present and one visitor, Mrs. Ruby Peel of Hearne.

The Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday night at the school building. We did not have our program as there was business to attend to that took up the full time. It was decided to spend $125 for books for the different grades. The Association is also having built a book case for each room to take care of these books. This puts our school library in fine shape as we have just finished paying $184 for high school encyclopedias. About 20 members were present.

D. W. Key and L. S. Cunningham were in Temple one day last week.

Mrs. Anna Fabian of Rockdale visited her sister, Mrs. J. T. Tidwell last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Ferguson and Mrs. Robert Goad were in Cameron Thursday afternoon.

MOTOR WORLD AGOG OVER NEW MODELS TO DISPLACE FOUR CYLINDER CARS

Motoring America was on its tip-toes today as two of its large metropolitan centers were viewing for the first time the sensational new valve-in-head six cylinder Chevrolet, which was announced November 16. Interest was keyed to a high pitch in New York and Detroit as the financial and motor capitals of the country respectively, prepared to greet this most advanced offering of the world's largest automobile producer for 1928.

The two advance showings opened simultaneously at noon Saturday Nov. 24th, the New York premiere taking place in a brilliant setting in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and the Detroit debut in the Auditorium of the General Motors building. Both showings are to continue up to and including Thursday, November 29th.

Meanwhile the gigantic Chevrolet manufacturing organization is applying itself to a heavy production program so that cars may be shipped to dealers starting December 15 and deliveries to the public may begin on January first.

Chevrolet's dealers are in readiness to take care of a deluge of advance orders. For several days prior to the announcement the sales division of the company, under direction of R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales, made use of every information medium available in preparing dealers and salesmen for the advent of the new six.

Tons of literature were mailed from Detroit, fully descriptive of the new product. Lighted shadow boxes with color illustrations of the new models, and slide films for projection on the screen or wall of a darkened room, proved invaluable assets in disseminating the facts. Special talking records, so timed as to synchronize with the slide film pictures and descriptions were also used and proved to be just another instance of the ingenuity the sales division exemplified in getting all the facts to its dealers and salesmen for use during this announcement period.

In the company's announcement last week of "a six in the price range of the four," there was indicated a smashing triumph for quantity production. It pointed out that the new car with the advanced features it embodies, was made possible at its price chiefly through the influence of great volume production. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, stated on the announcement that only volume production made possible by the tremendous popular reception accorded Chevrolet in recent years enabled the company to offer a car with the speed, acceleration, power and smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same price that contributed so much to the world wide popularity of the four.

So that the entire country might have an opportunity of seeing the new car before it goes on the road, January first, the Chevrolet Motor Company arranged a series of eleven advance showings in as many leading cities strategically located throughout the country. The showings now under way will take the form of an elaborate miniature automobile show with attractive settings and suitable entertainment features. Provision has been made to accommodate more than a million people who are expected to attend one or other of the showings that will take place from coast to coast from now until December 22. Included in the legion of automobile enthusiasts who will be in attendance during the course of the showings will be 30,000 Chevrolet dealers and salesmen, many of whom will travel 300 miles or more to be present at the various premiere showings of the New Chevrolet.

Immediately following the advance showing in New York cars will go to Washington for a gala opening at the Mayflower Hotel in the Capitol city, December first. This showing will continue up to and including December 4.

Meanwhile the Detroit display will be moved to Chicago, where the mid-western metropolis will see the new Chevrolet line December 1-5 inclusive. This particularly elaborate exhibit will take place in the Pure Oil Building at Wacker Drive and Wabash Avenue.

The Pacific coast will get its first glimpse of the new line on the same day with Washington and Chicago, when the Los Angeles display is opened in the Auditorium of the Ambassador Hotel. The time required to ship cars from the Flint, Mich., factory to the coast accounts for the fact that the initial showing on the western seaboard will be seven days behind the New York and Detroit premieres. The Los Angeles showing will continue from December 1-6.

Following the showing in the Capitol City, the Washington cars will go to Cincinnati, where a similar display will be staged in the Sinton Hotel, December 8 to 14, and then to Atlanta where the Capitol city of the old South and the home of a new Chevrolet assembly plant, will greet the cars from December 18 to 22 in the Auditorium-Armory.

At the conclusion of its six day run the Chicago exhibit will be moved to St. Louis for a seven day showing in

Tiger Real Big Show Attraction

The Christy Brothers Shows which will be here next Monday, November 26 for two performances has on its list of stellar attractions Lenine, the giant Siberian tiger direct from the steppes of that cruel country and the only wild animal that the trainers of the show have been unable to subdue. Noted as a killer, the most dreaded of all the denizens of the menagerie, the attendants give his cage a wide berth.

The Christy Bros. Show is the only large show in all the world that still retains the parade feature of show day and the two mile long swiftly moving street pageant will leave the show grounds promptly at noon.

Performances are scheduled for two for the afternoon and eight for the night performances. Doors will be open an hour earlier so that all may pay a leisurely visit to the menagerie with the largest and most varied collections of wild and savage beasts from the shores washed by the farthest seas.

The Arcadia Ballroom, beginning December 8, Dallas in the center of the Lone Star state will be next in line, receiving the St. Louis show cars on December 18, when the display will open at the Adolphus Hotel and continue until December 22.

San Francisco will claim the Los Angeles cars on December 8 when the Golden Gate display opens in Civic Auditorium-Larkin Hall for a six day run closing December 13. From San Francisco the west coast show cars will be shipped to Portland, Ore., where the Pacific Northwest will view the exhibition in the Public Auditorium from December 18 to 22.

Mexican Baptist Church News

Karnes City, Texas, Oct. 28, 1928
Rev. F. A. Hernandez,
Cameron, Texas,

Esteemed and consecrated brother, in the Redemption work of our Lord. At the present I am writing to you in the love of Christ with only the object to unite my caulous hand with yours wishing you the most abundance of His riches from the Most High, in all your undertakings and plans for the welfare of dying humanity and Honor and Glory to the Most Highest God, for generation to generation, Amen. Courage and consecration. The Master is on the lead, wake up the ones who sleep, He shall guide us with His Light. Beloved brother I do not know you personally but by the spirit and the heart may God richly bless you and will see you and Him face to face in and by Jesus.

Yours in the Master,
Paulino Rodriguez Conrejo.

The Wonders of Our Lord

According to His will and doing to please His own self and be glory to Him. One Saturday night about nine o'clock I was sitting on the gallery with my wife and three friends when Hon. M. G. Cox came and said good evening and then asked "Is Brother Hernandez here." I answered here I am. He said, "I could not go to bed tonight without seeing you. I know that you need a lot and house to worship in so I have the lot and the money." So on Monday I went and looked at the lot and closed the trade for $522.50, giving 5 notes, one to be paid each year and were made payable on or before date, having in my mind that the Lord would give me the money most any time. So five months from the time the notes were signed Mrs. T. S. Henderson sent me a check for $425 by Mrs. M. C. Sapp. At the same time I had borrowed $50 and paid for a piano to be paid $10 monthly out of my pocket and Mrs. M. C. Sapp, came to the house of worship and asked me about the piano. I told her how I got it and the terms. So the day she brought the check for the lot she gave me the $50 and I paid for the piano at the time that I was to make the first payment. On April 24, 1927 through the Cameron Herald I called for funds for the lot and building, so through the mail and some contributions by the Mexicans I had $97.50 which was paid to Hon. M. G. Cox and the titles and releases were recorded as property of the First Baptist church of Cameron.

The Building Fund Organization was formed afterwards with Bro. Wm. Henderson chairman; Bro. J. S. Bragg Secretary and Mrs. M. C. Sapp, treasurer and Bro. F. J. Beckerman Assistant treasurer and Bro. M. G. Cox a helper.

F. A. Hernandez.

Birthday Party For Lindle Children

To celebrate their sixth and eighth birthdays respectively Jelene and Virginia Lindle invited their friends to a party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lindle, Saturday afternoon from three to six o'clock with the following invitations sent through the mail:

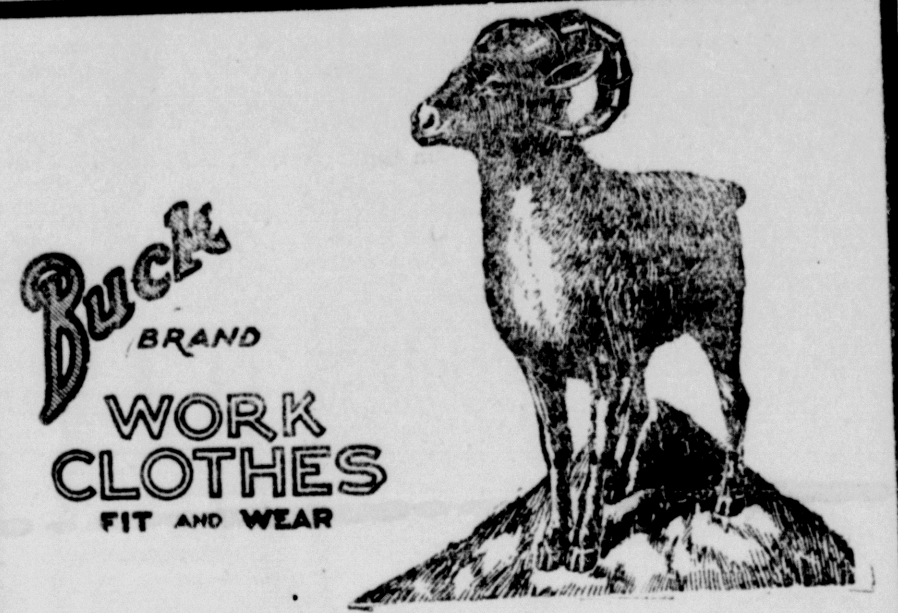

"I'm going to have a birthday party On Saturday, November 17, 1918 from 3 until 6 o'clock and I would like very much to have you come.

Jelene and Virginia Lindle.
Please let me know.
Thirty-four guests enjoyed the games on the lawn directed by Mrs. Lindle who was assisted in entertaining and serving by Mesdames Ralph Michalka, Guy Chandler and Tom Vaughn, Jr. The hostesses were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.
Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served in the house and as each person entered she drew a souvenir from a box beside the door. The table on which the birthday cakes were placed was decorated in pink and white crepe paper and the cakes which were iced in white bore the correct number of pink candles. In cutting the cakes Virginia Lindle cut the ring, Billy Balhorn, Jr., the dime and Geo. Hanel the thimble.

Mrs. J. C. Mayfield returned home Tuesday from Runnels County where she was called last week on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Minshew, who passed away before Mrs. Mayfield reached her bedside.

Uniform Service On New Model Fords Is Assured By Company

Absolute uniformity of service on the new Ford Model "A" cars and model "AA" trucks is being maintained by the Ford Motor Company thru a plan which involves the training, in the Ford plants, and the Detroit factories have assumed the character of a gigantic training school, to which every Ford dealer in the United States is sending one or more representatives.

This school for service men began with the training of superintendents and foremen of the 36 branch plants of the company in the United States. Before the Model "A" Ford car was introduced, these men from the branch plants were being schooled in the Ford factories near Detroit in the manufacture and assembly of the new car. They returned to the 36 Ford branches and immediately began the training of men for dealers in their respective territories.

The men came in relays, each group as large as the branch plant can handle conveniently. The groups are purposely kept small, in order that the most intensive training can be given. Each man is put through the same course given the branch man at Detroit and upon its completion is given a rigorous examination. This examination includes many points about the car which might not be considered essential, from the service man's viewpoint. However, the Ford Company is requiring complete knowledge of the car on the part of every dealer's service men. Failure to make a passing grade means that the man has to take the entire course again. If he fails a second time, he is sent back to the dealer with the suggestion that he is not considered qualified to give Ford service; whereupon, the dealer sends another man for the next training school session.

This requirement for trained service men extends to every Ford dealer no matter how small his establishment may be. Many dealers have sent two or more men to the branch for training. Upon passing the factory examination, these men return to the dealers' shops and pass on to the entire shop organizations the same careful instruction given at the branches.

BLUE BIRD CHORAL CLUB

The Bluebird Choral Club met Tuesday afternoon for the regular choral club meeting and plans were made for the initiation program in chapel the following morning. The new members, dressed in old fashioned dresses and with ribbons on their hair in honor of the occasion gave the following program Wednesday morning: We are in the Choral Club, (Tune of Mary Had a Little Lamb.) That's My Weakness Now. Reading of the Pledge of the New Members, Sue Ella Tyson. Jokes, Mary Jane Burnett and Julia Mae McCollum. The Desert Song. Get Out and Get Under the Moon. Anacreon, The Old Woman and Her Little Pig.

Treble Clef Club Is Entertained By Florence Atkinson

The Treble Clef Club, which is Cameron's junior musical organization was organized for the new season Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Atkinson. All ten of the members who remained from last year were present at the meeting and the following officers were elected: President, Ruby Robbins, Vice-president, Estelle Turney, Secretary, Inez Evans; Treasurer, Euline Slaughter. No sponsor has yet been appointed for the club and until one is named a definite time for meeting will not be set. Neither will any committees be appointed until the organization is perfected. An invitation has been received from the Junior Music Club of Rosebud asking that the Treble Clef Club members be their guests on Saturday but owing to many conflicting duties on the part of the Cameron members it has been found necessary to send regrets for that date.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed during which time the hostess served iced tea and jelly roll.

Triangle Bridge Club Is Entertained By Mrs. Cecil Barmore

The Triangle Bridge Club which was organized two weeks ago, was entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Cecil Barmore at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Guggolz. Roses were used to advantage in the living room where the tables were placed.

The hostess served a salad plate with hot chocolate and fruit cake. Mrs. Edwin Bigbee of Brownwood was a guest.

Mrs. Earl Burke is president of the Triangle Club and Mrs. W. D. Bigbee is secretary. There are three tables of players which meet every second and fourth Monday evening. Members are Mesdames Charlie Nabours, Henry Patillo, Thad Epperson, Cecil Barmore, Penn Wolf, Terry Wiley, W. D. Bigbee, Earl Burke and Misses Ruby Lingert, Dulce McCall, Mary Burnett and Grace Eplen.

Everybody should hear him. Remember the night service will begin at 7:00 instead of at 7:00. Be on time.

SAM HEFLEY BACK FROM CONVENTION SEES COMING OF BETTER PROGRAMS HERE

"The mission of entertainment is one in which public spirited citizens should interest themselves," says Sam Hefley of the Wonderland and New Hefley Theaters.

Mr. Hefley was one of a thousand progressive showmen who attended the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Convention held at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, November 13-14.

"The mission of entertainment is one of vast importance to a city and its surrounding community and this convention enabled me to learn of things which will enable me to be of greater benefit to Cameron in the matter of entertainment."

"Sound and talking pictures are the biggest thing in the world of motion pictures today, and while they are by no means perfect and as yet are not available to the small theatre, in a little while they promise to place motion picture entertainment in the very front rank of the entertainment of the world."

"At the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Convention an organization designed to aid exhibitors in the all important mission of entertainment, I learned something of pictures, music and presentation which I bring back to Cameron and its people which will be more entertaining, inspiring and beautiful."

"The mission of entertainment is important," he said, "and one in whose hands this business is placed should leave nothing undone which has a tendency to improve it."

Unprecedented Is Reception to New Anniversary Buick

Flint, Mich., Nov. 20—The unprecedented reception accorded the Silver Anniversary Buick throughout the nation again is demonstrated in figures just announced by C. W. Churchill, general sales manager, which show that 28,460 of the new models were produced in the mile and a half long Buick factory during October or at the rate of 1095 cars each working day.

This production, the greatest ever reached by the Buick Company, in a single month, exceeds the September mark, which was 26,789 by more than 1650 cars and outdistances October 1927 when the production was 22,338, by more than 6000 cars.

Another interesting comparison shows that Buick production for October, 1927, fell off by more than 1500 cars from that of September, 1927, while for 1928 the situation was almost exactly reversed.

An accident in which a man's false teeth cut out his tonsils occurred on Whidby Island last Thursday, when a cable which was stretched across the road to the ferry struck the driver of a milk truck across the mouth, forcing his upper plate into his throat. Why Turkey for Thanksgiving?

WHEN the Pilgrim Fathers had their first crop harvested, Governor Bradford directed the settlers to go gunning for wild turkey. These native birds, with products of the Pilgrims' fields, were made the means of a bountiful thanksgiving festival, at which the Indians were royally entertained.

In this way the turkey became the national Thanksgiving bird—a symbol of completed harvest, of goodwill, of grateful appreciation for blessings received.

We hope your blessings include a growing cash reserve, deposited here where it acquires safety, the helping hand of an influential financial institution and the profit of a generous interest rate.

U. S. SUPREME COURT RULES AGAINST KLAN

SUPREME TRIBUNAL UPHOLDS
NEW YORK LAW REQUIRING
FULL INFORMATION

Washington, Nov. 19.—In an opinion delivered by Justice Vandevanter and bristling with criticism of the Ku Klux Klan, the supreme court today upheld a New York law requiring unincorporated associations requiring an oath as a condition of membership to file detailed information with the secretary of state.

The decision, with which Justice McReynolds disagreed, was rendered in a case brought by George W. Bryant, a member of the Klan, who was convicted at Buffalo following failure of the organization to submit such a report to the secretary of New York state. Bryant had attacked the law as an unconstitutional infringement upon his rights and privileges.

Justice Vandevanter said the court assured that the New York legislature had before it such information as was "readily available, including the published report of a hearing before a committee of the house of representatives of the 57th congress relating to the information, purposes and activities of the Ku Klux Klan."

"If so, it was advised—putting aside controverted evidence—that the order," the justice said, "was a revival of the Ku Klux Klan of an earlier time with additional features borrowed from the know-nothing and the A. P. A. orders of other periods that its membership was limited to native born, gentile, protestant whites; that in part of its constitution and printed creed it proclaimed the widest freedom for all and full adherence to the constitution of the United States, in another exacted of its members an oath to shield and preserve 'white supremacy' and in still another declared any person actively opposing its principles to be a dangerous ingredient in the body politic of our country and an enemy to the weal of our national commonwealth; that it was conducting a crusade against Catholics, Jews and negroes and stimulating hurtful religious and race prejudices; that it was striving for political power and assuming a sort of guardianship over the administration of local state and national affairs; and that at times it was taking into its own hands the punishment of what some of its members conceived to be crimes."

"We think it plain that the action of the courts below in holding that there was a real and substantial basis for the distinction made between the two sets of associations or orders was right and should not be disturbed."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINED FRIDAY

All kinds of hobo games were played during the evening. Mrs. Cable assisted by Mrs. Alfred Walston served hot dogs and tea cakes.

WORTHWHILE CLUB

Mrs. Hugo Slaughter, the president was hostess to members of the Worthwhile Club Friday afternoon. The hours were filled with sewing, pleasant conversation and games.

"I was very weak and nervous. It looked like the least little thing would upset me."

"I tried many remedies, but nothing did me any good until I started taking Cardui."

"Cardui proved to be all that was said of it. I took it for several months, regularly. At the end of that time, I was in good health, and have been so ever since."

YOEMEN IN BRYAN LOSE GAME 21 TO 0

HARD FOUGHT GAME BUT LOSE
WHEN BREAKS GO TO BRYAN

The Yoemen invaded Bryan Friday November 16 and were defeated by the Bryan High "Little Aggies" on the Allen Academy gridiron by the score of 21 to 0.

The game was hard fought and more interesting than the score indicates. The Yoemen made about as many first downs as the "Little Aggies" and were in there fighting from whistle to whistle. The Bryan boys got every break and were always swift to take advantage of them.

In the first minute of play Cummings, all state tackle of last year, blocked one of "Boots" Smith's punts and one of his team mates snatched up the ball and ran for a touchdown. They crossed the Yoe High goal a second time when Cobb grabbed a pass and eluded the entire Yoe High backfield.

The Yoemen threatened the Bryan goal on three or four occasions but they lacked the punch to carry the old pigskin over. One time a pass from Young to Wilkerson was about a foot wild. On another occasion a Yoe High pass was blocked on the Bryan 15 yard stripe and the Yoemen again lost the ball on the goal line.

Cummings and Cobb were thorns in the Yoe High boy's sides from whistle to whistle. They were in practically every play on the defense and made all the gains which the Bryan boys registered.

Deer, Stach, Wilkerson and Young carried the brunt of the attack for the Yoemen, while "Pete" Graves played a nice game until he was carried out.

The Yoemen have two more contests on the local gridiron. They clash with Brenham Friday and with Granger the following week.

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Bridge Club having been postponed last week, Mrs. S. A. Cottle was hostess to the members at the Country Club on Tuesday of this week. For decorations in the spacious reception rooms she chose autumn leaves and chrysanthemums with a predominating yellow color.

Two minutes faster — and Texas saves 59 years!

IN 1926, the average time required to handle a long distance call in Texas was 5 minutes. In 1927 it was only about 3 minutes.

Two minutes on each of the 15,500,000 long distance calls placed in Texas in 1927 totals 59 years—59 years saved for telephone users in Texas!

This improvement in speed of service is due chiefly to the Bell Laboratories and the Bell System headquarters in New York, where 5,000 people are engaged wholly in solving telephone problems. It is largely through their efforts that we are able to carry out our policy of providing you with a continually improving service, always at a reasonable cost.

BUSINESS WOMEN GIVE BANQUET TO BOSSES

ANNUAL PROGRAM AFFORDS
ENTERTAINMENT FOR MANY
HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

It is the custom of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Clubs over the state to give an annual "Bosses Banquet." Following this custom the Cameron B. & P. W. Club gave a delightful banquet Thursday evening, November 15th at 8:00 o'clock in the basement of the First Methodist church, featuring an aeroplane party. The hall was decorated with tiny aeroplanes suspended from the ceiling and was noted in all the appointments. Pretty fall chrysanthemums gave floral charm to the handsomely decorated table. Tall whip candles stood at chosen places down the long tables, and colorful balloons floated at the backs of the chairs for the ladies and whistles were laid at the bosses' plates. Dainty crepe paper holders contained nuts, and placed at each plate. A handsome bouquet of chrysanthemums were placed in front of the president's plate, a gift from the club.

The "Bosses" were greeted at the entrance by the receiving committee Mesdames Bessie Louise Hefley and Homer McLane, Misses Delphya Scott and Minnie Bartholomew who gave all a hearty welcome, directing them to the reception room where pleasant conversation helped to while the time away before the program was to begin.

The songs used were original and peppy and were led by Miss Emogene McLerran. At the given time Bosses were chosen by the hostesses and taken to the banquet hall, singing "Hail, hail the gang's all here, everybody fly now." "Circle to the sky now" each one going using their arms as though flying and were seated around the festive board. After invocation, repeated in unison by the club members the Bosses were greeted with an original song, "How do you do."

The president of the club, Mrs. Meta McCown, greeted the guests with a splendid welcome using the aviation vernacular, creating much merriment and was supplemented by a welcome by Miss Jennie Shirley.

Miss Rose Rischer gave a welcome in a most happy manner, followed with "The Eyes of Texas are upon you," which was sung by all present.

While enjoying the first course, oyster cocktail and salad, the Bosses were welcomed with a song with some boss' name used to the following:

"I wish I had a little brown box to put Boss — in,
I'd take him right out and (spank, spank, spank)
And put him right back in.
I wish I had a little brown box to put Boss — in,
I'd take him right out and (kiss, kiss, kiss)
And put him right back in."

while a heart shaped "spot light" was directed on the boss that was named.

Miss Mary Lake Henderson was then introduced by the toastmistress, Mrs. McCown, and gave a beautiful original poem to the Bosses, in aeroplane vernacular, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

James Baskin was introduced and responded to the welcome in a delightful manner.

During the courses a number of original songs were sung to the bosses and guests while the spot light was used in amusing ways.

Mrs. Gladys Watson was introduced and gave a talk on "Gas," which created much merriment, ending up with an appeal to the business men to help the B. & P. W. Club in their plan for the future; that of erecting a drinking fountain for the public and a rest room for the ladies who shop in Cameron.

The club members are very grateful to the Methodist Circle who prepared and served the banquet for them which was done in faultless style.

DR. SEAMAN KNAPP

W.C. STALLINGS

TENTS FIRST HOUSED TEXAS A.M. EXTENSION SERVICE.

College Station, Texas, Nov. 21—It seems particularly fitting that the 25th Anniversary Celebration of agricultural Extension work in the United States, to be held at Houston Feb. 4-8 in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southern Agricultural Workers Association, should be observed in Texas. For it was in Texas that farm demonstration work in this country had its origin, in 1903, and that the first county agent in the United States was appointed in 1906.

Of particular interest in this connection is the fact that the Mexican boll weevil invasion of Texas cotton fields played a very prominent part in bringing about the practical application of the idea. It was for the purpose of showing how to combat this cotton pest by crop rotation, diversification and good farming, that Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, founder of farm demonstration work in the U. S., established the first farm demonstration project on the farm of Walter G. Porter at Terrell, Texas in 1903. Dr. Knapp died in 1911.

The great success of this project coupled with the wide fame of Dr. Knapp resulted in authorization by the United States Department of Agriculture of the employment of "special agents" early in 1904 to establish similar farm demonstrations along the railroad lines of East Texas and Louisiana. With Dr. Knapp in charge and with headquarters in Houston, the work grew rapidly in popularity and soon there were more than fifty special agents in Texas and other Southern states. This work was aided after 1906 by the General Education Board of New York City as well as the United States Department of Agriculture. Growth demanded by 1906 that the county be adopted as the unit instead of railroad divisions and W. C. Stallings, appointed "farm demonstration agent" in Smith County, Texas, became the first county agent in the United States.

Farm demonstration work in Texas was combined with the newly organized Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas in 1912 and headquarters moved to College Station. Six canvas tents erected in front of the old Agricultural Building, housed the offices. H. H. Williams, now vice director and state agent of the Texas Service was with the service at the time and was standing at the entrance of the second tent from the left when the accompanying illustration of the tent offices was made.

Today the Texas Service has 270 white county and home demonstration agents and 42 negro men and women agents.

MAYSFIELD

Miss Mary Ethel Massengale, who is attending high school in Cameron spent last week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Massengale.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barmore in company with Mr. and Mrs. H. Kruger attended the 25th anniversary of the Vogelsang Lutheran church near Ben Arnold Wednesday.

H. M. Massengale and son LeRoy left Wednesday for Uvalde on a ten day deer hunt. They will visit an uncle, Col. A. E. Williams and Rev. Gus J. Craven, former pastor of the Maysfield Presbyterian church, in San Antonio while on the trip.

The new Methodist pastor, Rev. Red and family arrived at the parsonage last Wednesday evening and were given a hearty welcome Friday night with a "pounding" by members and friends in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Freeman. The gathering was not as large as it would have been on account of the inclement weather but the evening was very much enjoyed by those present. They were entertained with music on the radio. Delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by the charming hostess.

Miss Blair, Home Demonstration Agent from College Station made her annual visit to Milam County and visited the 4-H Club girls of Maysfield on November 12. She gave the girls a talk on health and what foods are essential in order to grow healthy, well formed bodies. She also showed them how to prepare some delicious school lunches.

Mr. Wm. Collier died at his home in Maysfield Tuesday evening at six o'clock, November 13th, 1928, after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Collier was born at Rusk, Texas on December 4, 1853 and was married to Miss Annie Belle Williams of Smithville, on November 10, 1881.

He joined the Christian church in Waco in his early married life and was highly respected in this community for his true Christian character.

He is survived by his wife and five children: Mrs. S. E. Cook of Travis; Mrs. J. M. Aycock, Belmena; Mrs. J. B. Aycock of Temple; A. L. Collier of Hubbard City; G. H. Collier of Belmena; 25 grand children and two great grand children; two sisters, Mrs. Robt. Philipps of Ball Prairie and Mrs. Ella Hutchinson of Tulare, California.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at Walker's Creek Baptist church, Rev. W. A. McMillan, his pastor of Moline, officiating, assisted by Rev. R. L. Nicholson of Maysfield. Interment in the church cemetery. A large crowd was present and many beautiful flowers covered his grave, showing the love and esteem of friends and loved ones.

CHRISTIAN AID

The ladies of the Christian church met at the church Monday afternoon at three o'clock to pack and mail a box of rag rugs which they have made for the mission at San Antonio.

Oakland Has 'Oil Wetted' Air Cleaner

Efficient muffling of carburetor "hissing" reduction of fire hazard and practically 100 per cent air cleaning are advantages claimed for the new type "oilwetted" air cleaner used as standard equipment on the latest Oakland All-American Six.

The cleaner, attached to the intake of the larger carburetor, is composed of a porous mass of oilwetted copper ribbons enclosed in a metal cylinder through which air is drawn, according to research engineers of the AC Spark Plug company, makers of the cleaner, in a report of the Oakland Motor Car company. "In passing through the pores of this filtering mass," the report continues, "any dust particles come in contact with the oil surfaces and are retained by them."

"When attached to a carburetor, this type of cleaner acts as an efficient muffler because the dense mass of filtering material breaks up and diffuses sound waves before they are projected out of the cleaner. The result is that all of the objectionable hissing noises so common with unprotected carburetors have been practically eliminated."

"Another distinct feature of the oil wetted type air cleaner is that it will minimize fire hazard. The Underwriters' report in this connection says in part:

"Backfire test showed that the backfire flames are completely arrested in the cleaner and will not reach the engine compartment. Repeated and severe backfires failed to ignite flammable material held within an inch of the shell."

"Inasmuch as a large number of automobile fires have been traced to carburetor backfire it is thought that the attachment of a properly designed cleaner to the carburetor air intake will materially assist in decreasing the number of fires."

"In summarizing the report says: 'The device is practicable from the standpoint of operating, installation and maintenance; is sufficiently durable to the engine compartment.'"

"When necessary to be cleaned, the filter unit may be removed and easily and thoroughly washed by moving it up and down in a pail of gasoline. Reoiling is accomplished by simply applying oil with an oil squirt can through the air outlet to the filtering material."

"The cleaner element should be cleaned and re-oiled at least once a year under ordinary driving conditions, and more under especially severe conditions."

Power and Light Service in Great American Cities

It is interesting to note that the greater American cities are supplied with electric power by privately owned and operated power and light companies. Experience over long periods of years has proven that private ownership makes for greater efficiencies and economies. These cities are capable of having the best of utility services, and their experience might well point the way for communities with the ambition to grow greatly.

The Texas Power & Light Company serves a great number of Texas cities with electric light and power service which is unexcelled anywhere in this country.

What will they think up next?

SAW a piece in a woman's magazine the other day about how to make nice looking electric lights out of old-fashioned coal-oil lamps.

Now that there are over 300,000 Delco-Light Plants in use, we expect there must be a lot of orphan oil lamps around. We're glad somebody has found a use for 'em. They certainly aren't of any use by themselves when you have Delco-Light.

Speaking of Delco-Light, have you seen the new combination plant? It's the biggest time-saving piece of machinery we've ever seen. And its bright electric light does more than anything we know of to make the farm more pleasant and enjoyable. Do you know of anything better?

PUPILS WANTED

To the first half-million new Ford owners

TO THE half-million men and women who have received new Fords in the last eleven months, there is no need to dwell on the performance of the car.

You have tested its speed on the open road. In traffic you have noted its quick acceleration and the safety of its brakes. You know how it climbs the hills. On long trips and over rough stretches you have come to appreciate its easy-riding comfort. Continuous driving has proved its economy of operation and low cost of up-keep.

This is an invitation to you to take full advantage of the service facilities of the Ford dealer organization so that you may continue to enjoy many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

The point is this. You have a great car in the new Ford. It is simple in design, constructed of the best materials and machined with unusual accuracy. It is so well-made, in fact, that it requires surprisingly little attention. Yet that doesn't mean it should be neglected. Like every other fine piece of machinery, it will serve you better and longer if given proper care.

One of the best ways to do this is to take your car to the Ford dealer every 500 miles for oiling and greasing and a checking-up of the little things that have such a great bearing on long life and continuously good performance.

Such an inspection may mean a great deal to your car. To you it means thousands upon thousands of miles of motoring without a care—without ever lifting the hood.

Ford dealers everywhere have been specially trained and equipped to service the new Ford. You will find them prompt and reliable in their work, fair in their charges, and sincerely eager to help you get the greatest possible use from your car for the longest period at a minimum of trouble and expense. That is the true meaning of Ford Service.
